JTD Editorial Board and authors are concerned that the integrity of an article be maintained, and in order to protect that reference value and validation process, we ask that authors recognize that distribution of the version of the article (through the Internet/WWW) as accepted for publication is best administered by the publisher.

Copyright to the above article is hereby transferred to the JTD Editorial Board (to the extent that it is transferable under applicable national laws) at the time it is accepted for publication in "Journal of Temporal Design in Architecture and the Environment." Copyright (including all rights thereunder and including the right to authorize photocopying and reproduction in all media, whether separately or as a part of a journal issue or otherwise) of the above article and any modified form of it by the author(s) is hereby transferred throughout the world and for the full term and all extensions and renewals thereof to JTD Editorial Board. This transfer includes the right to adapt the presentation of the article for use in conjunction with computer systems and programs, including reproduction or publication in machine-readable form and incorporation in retrieval systems.

- 1) All proprietary right other than copyright, such as patent and trademark rights and rights to any process or procedure described in the article.
- 2) The right to photocopy or make single electronic copies of the article for their own personal use, including their own classroom use, or personal use of colleagues, provided the copies are not offered for sale and are not distributed in a systematic way outside of their employing institutions (e.g. via an e-mail list or public file server). Posting of the published article on an electronic public server can only be done with JTD Editorial Board's written permission.
- 3) The right to grant or refuse permission to third parties to republish all or part of the article or translations thereof. In the case where the entire article is republished, the third parties must also obtain JTD Editorial Board's written permission.
- 4) The right to use all or part of this article in future works.

Authorship

If the article was prepared jointly with other author(s), the signing author has informed the co-author(s) of the terms of this copyright transfer and is signing on their behalf and represents that he or she is authorized to do so. The signing author shall bear the responsibility for all the co-author(s) and must inform JTD Editorial Board of any changes in authorship.

Warranties - The author(s) warrant(s) that the article: 1) is the author's (authors') original work and has not been published before; 2) contains no libelous or other unlawful statements, and does not infringe on the rights of others. If excerpts from copyrighted works are included, the author(s) has (have) obtained or will obtain written permission from the copyright owners and will credit the sources in the article.
